Coatesville's MTSS (multi-tiered system of supports) program provides tiered layers of academic, social, and emotional support to help each student experience continual growth. This MTSS framework ensures each student receives individualized support.

With new research-based curriculum, improvements in all academic areas, and increased school-based student supports, Coatesville is prepared to both nurture and challenge each of our learners.

Coatesville partners with numerous local and regional organizations to provide unique and meaningful opportunities to our students. From high-tech companies committed to partnering with our schools, to local theater and arts organizations, to community-based organizations providing after-school programming, our students thrive and grow both in and out of school.
